

Enter the Gateway into Your Future.

Learn the most widely spoken first language in the world from a Fulbright Scholar at FVCC.

According to Asia Society, "The rise of China presents new economic, political and social realities that demand greater U.S. engagement at every level."

As the foundation of that engagement, we urgently need to raise the number of Americans who can demonstrate a functional proficiency in Chinese."

恭賀新禧

恭賀新禧

- Complete the first year of college-level Mandarin Chinese instructed by a Fulbright Scholar from Shenyang, China. *
- Choose from two sections of Elementary Mandarin Chinese I this fall:
Monday - Thursday, 8-9:20 a.m. or Monday - Thursday, 4-5:20 p.m.
August 28 - December 19, 2008 - $620
Also choose from two sections of Elementary Mandarin Chinese II next spring:
Monday - Thursday, 8-9:20 a.m. or Monday - Thursday, 4-5:20 p.m.
January 19 - May 15, 2009 - $620
- For information or to register, call 756-3852.

\ Students may audit the class if they are not interested in receiving college credit.*

Meet our Fulbright Scholar

Eric Pei Ruicheng, associate professor at Liaoning University in Shenyang, China, will bring excellent English skills and years of experience in teaching, interpreting and translating to the classes. He holds a master's degree in English language and literature, and his research work includes a study that contrasts the English and Chinese languages.

The college will also be offering a one credit class in conversational Mandarin Chinese starting in October.

Call 756-3962 for more information.

For more information on the Chinese language's impact on your future, visit:
<http://www.askasia.org/chinese/whychinese.htm>

